Questions:

- a. Do multiple development agendas speak each other?
  - b. How can these agendas be embedded into national frameworks and harmonize reporting?
  - c. How can countries leverage synergies among multiple development initiatives?
- These questions can be best addressed through a coherent integration of multiple development agendas into national development frameworks.

- ECA has developed a mainstreaming toolkit, known as Integrated Planning and Reporting Toolkit (IPRT).
- Mandate:
  - The 2016 Conference of Ministers (COM) requested ECA & AUC to develop a tool that helps align multiple development agendas with national development frameworks.

- What is ECA's IPRT?
- A tool that facilitates alignment of SDGs and A2063 with national development frameworks.
  - Levels of alignment: goal, target and indicator.
- It also allows for assessing the relationship between different development agendas.
- Assess degree of alignment by sector.

- Track progress in the implementation of SDGs and A2063:
  - Identify gaps between actual performance and targets.
- Progress review reports: Contributions to VNRs for the HLPF.
